

Disability Equality Scheme

(Incorporating the Accessibility Plan)

2018 - 19

School Ethos, Vision and Values

At Copnor Primary School, we are committed to ensuring equality of education and opportunity for individuals of all ethnic groupings, classes and abilities or disabilities. We aim to develop a culture of inclusion and diversity in which people feel free to disclose their disability and to participate fully in school life. We will make reasonable adjustments to make sure that the school environment is as accessible as possible.

At Copnor Primary School, we believe that diversity is a strength, which should be respected and celebrated by all those who learn, teach and visit here. We encourage pupils and staff to:

- appreciate that everyone has a contribution to make to the school and wider community
- develop respect for themselves and for others
- acknowledge and accept different and diverse abilities and disabilities without stereotype or prejudice

What do we understand by ‘disability’?

Definition of disability

The Disability Discrimination Act 2005 (DDA) defines a disabled person as someone who has ‘a physical or mental impairment which has a substantial or long-term adverse effect on his or her ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities’.

This definition was broadened in December 2005 under the 2005 Disability Amendment Act:-

- People with cancer or surviving cancer are now included, as are people with HIV and Multiple Sclerosis from the point of diagnosis
- For a mental impairment, the need for it to be ‘clinically well recognised’ has been removed

Definitions

‘Physical impairment’ includes sensory impairment.

‘Mental impairment’ includes learning difficulties and mental impairments resulting from or consisting of a mental disorder.

‘Substantial’ means more than minor or trivial.

‘Long-term’ means at least 12 months.

Disability in Education

The Disability Equality in Education (DEE) recommends that all pupils with SEN and those with long term medical needs to be treated as disabled for the purposes of the Act and for equality. This is an addition to all pupils with long-term impairments, which have a significant impact on their day-to-day activities.

The Disability of Equality Duty

The Disability Discrimination Act 2005 places a general duty on schools, who need to have due regard for the following when carrying out their functions:

- promoting equality of opportunity between disabled people and other people;
- eliminating discrimination that is unlawful under the DDA;
- eliminating harassment of disabled people that is related to their disability;

- promoting positive attitudes towards disabled people;
- encouraging participation in public life by disabled people;
- taking steps to meet disabled people's needs, even if this requires more favourable treatment.

Meeting the Disability Equality Duty

We welcome applications from pupils with disabilities. In order to ensure that action is taken to meet the Disability Equality Duty, Copnor Primary School has drawn up an action plan to meet the requirements outlined in the DDA 2005. This action plan has been shaped in consultation with disabled people as outlined in the previous section. Listed below are the strengths and barriers we have already identified within our school community.

Strengths

- Experience - over recent years the school successfully included pupils with a range of disabilities including Autistic Spectrum Condition, Attention Deficit and Hyperactivity Disorder, Pragmatic Language Disorders and Alcohol Foetal Syndrome.
- Knowledge - several teaching assistants have received training in meeting the needs of pupils with specific disabilities
- Adaptations – adaptations have been made in the reception area where accessible toilets have been built
- Resources – specific resources have been brought in and used to aid access to the curriculum e.g. sloping boards, hearing aid loops
- External agency advice – this has proved very effective for specific pupils e.g. Autistic Spectrum Condition (Cliffdale Outreach/Harbour School
- Time - The school's Inclusion Officer is non-class based.

Barriers

- Experience – not all members of staff have experience of working with pupils with disabilities and the school has not had experience of pupils with significant physical or mental disabilities
- Knowledge – staff training which has been received has been largely reactive, in response to specific pupils rather than proactive to increase knowledge, skills and understanding of staff in a systematic way
- Adaptations – the school is a large Victorian building with all the limitations this causes e.g. the upper school is on the second floor with no disability access; the semi-open plan areas in the school makes it harder for pupils with hearing impairments to access the curriculum; volume of children throughout the school can be often be a difficult sensory environment for children on the Autistic Spectrum
- Resources – many resources have been 'pupil specific' and are now no longer needed; knowledge of what resources are available is limited

Monitoring

To meet the Disability Equality Duty, it is essential that aspects of school life are monitored to identify whether there is an adverse impact on children and young people with disabilities. The following should be monitored:

- Achievement of pupils by disability
- Disabled staff (including numbers, type of disability and satisfaction rates in staff surveys etc.)

Additional implications for schools

The role of a school as a service provider

Schools have additional implications as a service provider to make their buildings accessible when they hire out rooms or parts of the building.

Contact with parents and carers

When providing newsletters and information for parents and carers, schools should make this information available in an accessible format so that parents or carers who may be, for example, visually impaired can access the information.

Additionally, events for parents and carers such as open evenings, meetings with teachers, should be held in accessible parts of the building.

Hiring transport

School staff will need to be aware of Section 6 of the Act when hiring transport as it puts new duties on transport providers, including the bus and coach companies, and the taxi and private hire car trade. The requirement to provide accessible vehicles is extended to include these transport providers. Bus companies will not be able to refuse a job because, for example, it may take longer to pick up disabled students.

Involvement and consultation

It is a requirement that disabled pupils, staff and those using school services should be involved in the production of the Disability Equality Scheme.

Copnor Primary School has consulted with disabled pupils, staff and service users in the development of our Disability Equality Scheme by:

- Focus groups
- Questionnaires
- Drop-in sessions

These views have helped develop the Action Plan particularly in the areas of curriculum, information and communication and access.

Responsibilities for implementing the scheme

Responsibilities for ensuring the implementation of specific aspects of the Disability Equality Scheme are identified in the scheme itself.

Resources

Funding for the implementation of the various aspects of the Disability Equality Scheme are as follows:

- Increase access to the school curriculum
 - Core budget for salaries of Inclusion Officer and Senior Leadership Team
 - Core training budget for INSET expenditure
 - £1100 per annum allocated for material resources for Inclusion from AEN/SEN funding
 - Core budget for adaptation of curriculum

- Staff employment and training
 - PDMs on disabilities run by Inclusions Officer
 - Core budget for CPD
- Improving the physical environment
 - Improved wheelchair access in Reception area
 - Disabled toilet in Reception area
- Engaging with parents and wider community/Information/Communication
 - Core budget for salaries for Inclusions Officer and administration staff

Monitoring and reporting

It is important to monitor the impact of the action taken to ensure that progress is being made towards meeting the Disability Equality Duty, and to ensure that no adverse impact occurs as a result of the actions.

The monitoring of the actions outlined in the action plan will be monitored in accordance with the specific timescales. If any adverse impacts are identified during the monitoring process, the action plan will need to be revised.

An annual report will be produced which outlines the progress of the Disability Equality Scheme and assesses the implementation of the action plan for effectiveness. This report will be circulated to the Headteacher and Governors and will consider progress towards the stated objectives and targets, revising them as needed and setting new ones where appropriate.
