

On 2nd March 2017, everyone in Copnor Primary School's community dressed up as their favourite book characters. In the morning the classes either did normal learning activities or did special World Book Day things like colour in Willy Wonka and design your own character.

In the afternoon, children were split into their groups from Think Big Day and did activities that children could choose from, such as designing a new front cover or talking about their favourite book or character from a book. What a great day we had!

WORLD BOOK DAY!!!!!!!!!!

On the 2nd of March 2017, everyone from Year R to Year 6 participated in World Book Day! Everyone made a big effort to dress up as their favourite book characters. Every child had a chance to see the people they met in different Year groups again.

I have asked people in many different classes about how they enjoyed the afternoon. A child who was put into 3LW said, “We read books to the younger children. I was put with a Year R child and I really liked seeing her again.” As you can probably guess, the younger children enjoyed being read to as well. Most people I asked were very little (Years R.1 and 2) and they said things such as: “ I really liked having big children read to me! It was really fun!”
